

To Whom It May Concern:

I'm writing this letter in support of PE Systems and to inform of the positive and financially rewarding experience that we have had with them. Our organization is constantly besieged by processors making offers and bids for our business. While I was open to the possibility of researching alternative avenues to reduce our fees, as CFO of a very busy organization, I had neither the time nor the desire to try and translate the varying propositions and the multitude of ways that they are presented. I saw the value right away in the amount of time that would be saved by having an independent firm use their expertise in the payment processing industry to do the work and present back to us our options.

The results were not only financially rewarding in the amount of time saved, but also in the dollars recovered for our organization. I have been amazed by the multitude of possibilities that can create overcharges in our processing environment and have appreciated the education the PE Systems has provided regarding these additional hidden fees. I also value the attention that our account manager gives to even the most minute details of our environment, which has in turn saved us additional dollars that we never would have been able to uncover on our own.

I highly recommend the professionals at PE Systems and the rewarding service that they provide.

Sincerely,

Chief Financial Officer
